Summary

Hello! I'm Aaditya, a passionate first-year student in Graphic, Web, and Advertising Design, with a knack for blending visual storytelling and humor to create engaging, memorable experiences. From concept to execution, I bring a fresh perspective to design and believe in the power of a good meme just as much as a well-placed color palette.

I'm driven by creativity and am constantly looking to broaden my skills in animation and reel creation, all while staying up-to-date with popular trends and internet culture. I'm well-versed in basic graphic design tools and am eager to dive deeper into the design industry to create work that's both eye-catching and relatable.

Whether I'm brainstorming campaign ideas, experimenting with new design techniques, or adding a humorous twist to projects, I strive to keep my work fresh, fun, and impactful.

Let's connect and explore how creativity and a touch of humor can bring unique perspectives to the world of design!
